TAX EXPRESS

INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMPLETION OF CHECKLIST

FINANCIAL YEAR ENDED 30TH JUNE 2022

1. 2022 Individual Tax Return Checklist has been updated in both format and structure so that it will better assist clients to provide the information in order to keep up with the ATO law changes and increasing scrutiny over some expense claims.
2. Most clients can provide us with adequate information to complete their return by completing the abbreviated Checklist (page 1-11). Clients with more complex affairs may instead need to complete the appendix (Page 12 to 15).
3. Only complete those questions / sections of the Checklist that apply to your situation.
4. When entering dollar amounts please round down income to the nearest dollar and round up expenses to the nearest dollar. Do not include cents. Dollar amounts must be expressed in Australian currency.
5. Documentation relating to your taxation return must generally be retained by you for a period of 5 years from the date of lodgement of the tax return.
6. Items of income and expenses for salary and wage tax returns are generally included on the cash basis of accounting. That is if you physically received income or physically paid an expense during the financial year it is included on your tax return for that year.

An important exception to this general rule is distributions of trust income, which are assessable when the distribution is made irrespective of whether you have physically received the distribution or not.

7. A good guide as to the sort of expenses that you may be able to claim as a tax deduction can be found by referring to the expenses claimed on your previous tax return.
8. If you are unsure about whether you can claim a tax deduction for an expense incurred in relation to your salary and wage income, you can clarify your eligibility by referring to our guidance notes on our website at saacs.com.au / Information Sheets / Substantiation of work-related expenses. The general rule being that the expense must be related to your income and you must hold (or copies readily accessible) acceptable documentary evidence (hard or soft copies) of the expense before claiming a deduction for same. The ATO can impose a range of penalties if they audit your return and you cannot substantiate all deduction claims.
9. If there is insufficient space on the Checklist for all of your information, please provide details of same in the Other Comments section of the Checklist or in an accompanying email.
10. If there are special circumstances that relate to your tax return that are not addressed on the Checklist, please provide details of same in the Other Comments section of the Checklist or in an accompanying email.
11. The Australian Taxation Office are reviewing an increasing number of individual tax returns each year, as their data collection and matching techniques and audit selection processes improve. Accordingly, we urge clients to include all income (particularly interest, dividends and taxable Centrelink payments) and only claim deductions for expenses that are related to their income and for which they have appropriate documentary evidence. The ATO can impose a range of penalties for making a false or misleading statements / not taking due care in completing your tax return if they find that you have understated income and overstated deductions if they audit your return.
12. If your affairs are too complex to have your return prepared on the basis of the Checklist (with reasonable assistance from reception staff) or if technical questions are required to be addressed by an accountant, you may prefer or be requested to make an appointment for a face to face interview with an accountant. Please note that higher charges apply to these appointments.
13. Any questions regarding the completion of the Checklist should be addressed to reception staff at helpdesk@saacs.com.au or on (03) 9650 3888. Reception staff will be happy to provide a “reasonable” amount of free assistance to clients to assist them to complete the Checklist.

However, we reserve the right to refer some queries to accountants and or make an appointment for a face-to-face appointment with an accountant if the nature of your query or level of communication with us warrants same. Higher charges may apply if technical advice is provided or in instances of “excessive” communication and will apply for face-to-face appointments.

14. Clients can access considerable technical and procedural information from our website without additional charge. Valuable information that will enable clients to understand the basis of their return and have same prepared more effectively can be accessed under saacs.com.au / Information Sheets or Taxation Tips or Newsletters e.g. information relating to employment contracts, residency status, salary packaging, substantiation of work related expenses, tax effective investments, tax effective purchase of motor vehicles, taxation tips questions and answers, taxations changes for the relevant financial year, travel expenses, rental properties, etc. We suggest that clients refer to these sections of our website before making contact with our reception staff for assistance.
15. The standard fee of $240 plus GST (higher in some instances for more complicated returns including rental property, capital gains and business schedules) for the tax return preparation service of TaxExpress is discounted because it is designed to be fully automated – consequently it does not entitle clients to free direct personal access to technical advice from accountants. Such access can generally only be obtained through a face-to-face appointment.
16. The engagement to prepare and lodge your tax return, does not entitle clients free access to ongoing professional advice or other services throughout the financial year (e.g. negotiating tax liability repayment plans, dealing with an ATO audit / review of your return, providing documentation / statement in support of a finance application, etc). Such advice would be subject to a separate engagement and appropriate fees will be charged in conformity with our Terms of Engagement located on our website or Engagement Letter.
17. Please ensure that you have completed the Client Declaration question at the bottom of the Checklist, as your tax return will not be prepared if the Declaration is not completed.
18. At the bottom of the Checklist you can elect to either save your information (so that you can return to complete it at a later time) or you can save and send your completed Checklist and supporting documentation to us by
  - email at helpdesk@saacs.com.au, or
  - facsimile on 03 9347 7557, or
  - mail to PO Box 115 Carlton South VIC 3053.
